Commodore's report

October has been a busy month on the docks as well as at the desk. The passing of the LTP and the approval of the replacement of the visitors dock in particular at the September GM has led to a flurry of work for the project team, headed by Hugh Greenwood. The task at hand has been the surveying of the water-lot and the collection of data needed to issue a request for quotation for the construction and installation of the new breakwater. Four competent firms have been selected and solicited for their proposals and these will be analysed and presented to the general membership at a Special General Meeting to be held simultaneously with the AGM.

During the month of October we have had the unpleasant duty to advise two members of their non-eligibility for membership under the 'resident of Salt Spring Island' restriction. In addition, we have received letters of resignation from John and Nancy Rainsford, Brian and Marie LeLievre, Roy and Mary Lamont, Ian and Minnie Thom, and Wilf and Jean Taylor, all of whom have been long and participating members. We wish them the best in their respective futures.

The breakfast and garage sale last week was a hoot and a wonderful change to the social program. It was more like an Egyptian market than a SSI garage sale. Every boating item under the sun was for

Special General Meeting = AGM

The new breakwater project team has been working diligently to issue requests for quotation and subsequently receiving and reviewing the responses. The full comparison of all the responses are expected to be completed next week. This will give the team, headed by Hugh Greenwood, time to prepare a submission to the general membership for its approval of the project. Because of the magnitude of this project and its implications on club resources, a Special General Meeting, in the form of the AGM, will be held on 26 November 2002 in order to deal with this issue as a Special Resolution: To authorise the Board of Directors to proceed with the breakwater project and to financially commit the club through a negotiation of a loan or the opening of a line of credit. Although the magnitude of this financial commitment is expected to be about $140,000, the exact budget will be calculated next week and presented to the membership at the AGM. Under the terms of By-Law 14,(b), i),ii),and iii) it was deemed that a SGM is required and that the passing of this Special Resolution will require the approval of at least 75% of the voting members present.

This is an important meeting which will affect us all so, please, get out and participate in the meeting and in your club.

sale and the breakfast was simply wonderful. It was a great day. Jennifer and Susan should be complimented on making this initiative an event to be repeated.

This is the last TellTales in which I will have the pleasure of contributing as your Commodore. It has been an interesting and challenging year. It has been fun and it has been rewarding, but most of all it has been an honour. It has been an honour to serve the membership and it has been an honour to work with such a crew of dedicated volunteers. The energetic and willing workings of the members of the Board are a true reflection of the spirit and the cooperation on which our club is based. I hope to be able to serve again.

Until then....

Board activities

The weather was brisk and so were appetites at the Saturday, November 2 fall work party. A busy crew was kept busy all morning making coffee, providing donuts and muffins for the mid-morning break and then clam chowder and toasted cheese buns for lunch at noon. A few hardy souls stayed on until well into the afternoon and enjoyed the traditional free beer and leftovers. Many thanks to Debbie Wrate, Jacquie Melzer, Heather Scheelar, Susan Paynter Sylvia Greenwood, Dawn Shaak, Tanis Smythe, Gail Myer, and Candace Brochmann for all their hard work. It was a great day!

On the waterfront

What a great day for a 'Work Party Weekend', although a tad frosty first thing it soon warmed up with brilliant sunshine all day which was needed at times to keep spirits up as some of the work was pretty tedious, i.e., bolt tightening, and trying, attempting to fix a cracked longitudinal beam on a float, only to find the centre section almost rotted away—ahh the challenges of dock maintenance. But as always, members came through with innovative solutions to all problems. Two existing floats were lifted, we are now considered experts at this, although this time the tides were not in our favour so we had to lift them manually, and floatation either rearranged or new stuff installed to make a much more stable platform. A new safety boat dock was constructed, the back of the old one having broken a couple of months ago, and a triangular piece will be completed soon to fill in the awkward area alongside the ramp which has been an irritation ever since we got the super buggies. The hinge design is being worked out and as soon as they are installed the decking will go on. So thanks to 70 or so members who turned out to make this another successful Work Party weekend, and a huge thanks to the kitchen crew who put on such a terrific spread at lunchtime.

The discovery that B dock has a rot problem was something of a surprise, as the situation was not evident from an external inspection. We will establish the extent of the problem and make plans for remedial action. It looks worse than it is, and we expect to be able to make repairs in situ.

With regard to progress on the new breakwater, things are coming along nicely. By the time you are reading this we will have quotations from three viable contractors and will be assessing the merits of each one in preparation for a presentation to the general membership at the AGM on 26th of this month.

I have been asked on several occasions when the water is going to be turned off, and the best answer I can give is 'when the next serious cold snap hits us', could be next week or next month, so now is the time to do any last minute clean-up.

As this will be my last contribution as Rear Commodore I want to say thanks to the many members who have made the experience so enjoyable, and a special thanks to Al Kirk, my mentor, whose continuous help, support and advice I could not have done without. Thanks Al.

The social scene

HURRY, HURRY, HURRY! - The Commodore's Ball at the Legion is approaching fast—there are still tickets available until December 8th by signing up at the clubhouse or phoning either Jenny Barrio at 653-2325 or Susan Paynter at 653-9688.

The October 26th Boat and What-have-you Garage Sale at the club started early with the keeners bringing in and setting up their goods for sale. Bargain hunters immediately started mooching and the trading began. Meanwhile Susan Paynter had orchestrated an excellent breakfast menu of juice, cheese and ham strata, coffee, tea and muffins which was enjoyed by about 55 early birds. A small breakfast nook was set up for those who preferred to eat sitting down while the majority ate and browsed at the same time. After breakfast some members of the general public came in to see what was going on, browsed and bought.

There were some great 'boat stuff' buys; anchors in particular came in on some members' shoulders and left on other shoulders; various bits of marine hardware and household goods, large and small, changed hands to the delight and relief of their sellers. Some interesting bits of exotica were for sale including a spear gun—great for retrieving cushions that have fallen overboard, and a pair of Algonquin style snow shoes—is this an omen for this winter's weather?

Now to the many people who helped make this garage sale a great success. First to Kevin Vine because it was his suggestion that got us started in the first place. The cooks: Susan Paynter, June Mason, April Steel, Candace Brochmann, Heather Kusch, Sylvia Greenwood, Dorothy Drubek, Jean Howell and Dawn Shaak. Thank you Harold Brochmann for your great poster and Mary Neil for selling Commodore's Ball tickets.

Dress-up your boat with Christmas lights in early December in preparation for the Christmas Party and Gift Exchange on December 10th. The lights will be judged at the party and a bottle of rum presented to the winner. Let's continue where we started last year and make the club docks a spectacular sight and a continuing tradition.

We will have the ever-popular gift exchange—bring one and receive one with some swapping and much hilarity and try to keep the cost to between $5 and $10. A donation to the foodbank will be much appreciated and we will arrange a box near the door for dry goods, staples and cans of food.

Snipe/Enterprise update

Since the last TellTales, I have received updated plans and specifications for the 13'-3" Enterprise Class racing dinghy. It looks like an excellent design to build of plywood. People who have sailed them report very favourably.

At the present time, I am marking out my shop floor in preparation for setting up building moulds. Anyone who might be interested in building or sailing an Enterprise is encouraged to contact me for more details. Many club members have already talked with me and shown support.

With the Enterprise Class, it may also be possible to buy second hand boats, for those who may not really be into building one. It would be ideal if we could build up a small fleet within the club.
