

Herbert and Kibble at the 2019 National IOM Championship

article by Martin Herbert, IOM #38

The very small IOM fleet at the Saltspring Island Sailing Club was pleased to hand over the organization and running of the 2019 National Championship to the newly revitalized Vancouver fleet. Full of enthusiasm, they rose to the occasion and put on a stellar event at Fishing Dock # 2, Steveston, May 3-5. The regatta was fully subscribed in record time, with two American entries coming in within seconds of the entry coming on line. The USA sailors are fighting for position to get into the 2019 World Championships and, as this is a ranking event for them, thirteen top level American boats showed up. Canada has two spots at the Worlds but lacks the competitive drive to fill them. Laid back local racing seems more our style. That being said, we were still fighting hard out on the water, giving it everything we had.

Roger Kibble and I were the Saltspring contingent but we did nominate Roger's son, Steve, as an honorary SSI sailor after his first days performance. I did something that I have always resisted in the past, building myself a new rig just before the event. I thought I had a week and a half to test it out before racing but a bout of strong winds made pre-testing my A rig impossible. The result was an abysmal first day that left me sitting 14th overall. The second day improved as I had 5 top ten finishes but also a lot of bone head manoeuvres that sent me back to B fleet three times. Day three was solid B rig racing toping out at 28 knots of wind. I finally found my form and lead at the weather mark in the last three races, finishing second in each of them. This dragged me up to 9th place overall and second Canadian after Rob Mulder of Vancouver in 7th place. Americans held down 8 of the top 10 spots.

Roger sailed a good seeding race and his 7th place got him into A fleet. In race 2 he went down to B fleet, where competition to get back to A was very stiff. I went down to B fleet three times and was so terrified of not getting out that I sailed some on my best races. Competition and excitement was just as good in B fleet. Roger finished the event in 28th place, just back of David Cook, an Olympic medalist and fierce competitor. After a brilliant first day, Steve Kibble slipped back to 17th place. The racing was very tight and every place up or down was fought for very hard.

Below is a picture just after the start of the fourth last race. I am sailing boat #38. I got to the weather mark second and sailed most of the race in third place before running aground on a mud bank during a tack on the last leg. The boat swung through the wind as a gust lifted the keel so I was able to continue and place 6th. It gives a sense of just how close the racing is in these events. Two ex Canadian Champs and one future Champ are behind me here.
